

What is the emergency aid (auxílio emergencial)?

- It is a financial benefit provided by the federal government to support low-income families during the crisis caused by the covid-19 pandemic.

As an immigrant, am I entitled to receive it?

- Yes!

How much will be provided?

- In general, it is granted R$ 600 per person per month. Up to two people in each family can request it.
- But for cases in which the woman is responsible for the household expenses, the amount received by her can reach R$ 1,200. If there is another person between 18 and 24 years old in the same family entitled to receive the aid, they can also request it. Thus, in this case, the total amount paid may reach R$ 1,800.

Whom is the emergency aid for?

- People over 18 years old
- Informal workers (without a formal contract)
- The unemployed
- Freelancers
- Individual microentrepreneurs
